Let's Start!

What happened at work?

Learning Outcome

Discuss factual and abstract information about common everyday or job related topics in both work and social contexts appropriate for the interlocutor.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about character traits.
- I can talk about an unusual event related to work issues.
- I can talk about expectations in the past related to work issues.

Ask your partner:

- Have you ever experienced something unusual at school or work? What was it?
- What do you think it means to be "plagued by guilt"?

Let's Explore!

Adam confesses to Kristi about what he did. Is she disappointed in him?

* To be "disappointed in" someone means to be unhappy because of something someone has done.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Kristi: Adam, I know we were supposed to meet earlier, but I got stuck in a meeting. I was going to text you, but ended up forgetting - sorry!
- Adam: Kristi, I'm the one who's supposed to be apologetic.
- Kristi: Uh? Why? What's going on?
- Adam: I am usually a very methodical person, but I don't know what happened ... I think I got carried away.
- Kristi: Adam, what are you talking about?
- Adam: Remember, the interview with the author? Boris had mentioned we were going to write a short author's bio ...
- Kristi: Yes, we were supposed to use our notes to do that.
- Adam: Right. Well, the thing is ... I lost my notes.
- Kristi: Oh! That's bad. You're always so methodical. I'm surprised that's happened.
- Adam: I know. I've never dealt with such a thing before. I was going to make an extra copy but I got distracted.
- Kristi: That's life. You can only learn from your mistake. It happens. That's never happened to me before.
- Adam: Anyway, my point is, having never experienced such an unusual event, I did something that I'm not proud of.
- Kristi: Adam?
- Adam: I stole your notes and used them to write my bio.
- Kristi: Adam!
- Adam: I know I wasn't supposed to do that, but I was plagued by guilt. I didn't mean to sound opportunistic.
- Kristi: I am very disappointed in you, Adam. That was a sly move!
- Adam: I am not the self-seeking type and you know that.
- Kristi: True. But who could have imagined?
- Adam: I was going to tell you earlier, but I didn't have the courage to. I am truly sorry.
- Kristi: Thanks for, at least, admitting to doing it. I would've been left in the dark.

Let's Practice!

Learning Points

Be Supposed to and Was/Were Supposed to

You use be supposed to and was going to to explain how things were done.

You use the structure be supposed to when you want to talk about expectations, obligations or arrangements. You can use this structure using the Past tense to talk about things that you were obligated to do, but didn't or couldn't do.

The structure is:

subject + to be + supposed to + verb

I was supposed to be there yesterday, but my flight was canceled.

*Pronunciation tip:

When you say be supposed to, you link the /d/ and /t/ sounds together.

Like this:

Be suppose_to

You use the structure was going to when you want to talk about things that you had planned or intended to do.

The structure is:

was/were + going to + verb

I was going to go to the shoemaker to get it fixed.

Examples:

- I know we were supposed to meet earlier, but I got stuck in a meeting. I was going to text you, but ended up forgetting - sorry!
- We were supposed to use our notes to do that.
- I was going to tell you earlier, but I didn't have the courage to.

Talking About Unusual Events

In a work environment there may come a time when you have to talk about an event that doesn't commonly happen. You can use different phrases to express that it is an unusual event. Look at the chart below. It contains a list of phrases or expressions you can use.

Expressions/Phrases

- I don't know what happened ...
- I'm surprised that's happened.
- I've never dealt with such a thing before.
- That's never happened to me ...
- ... having never experienced such an unusual event ...
- ... who could have imagined?

Examples:

- Adam: Oh! That's bad. You're always so methodical. I'm surprised that's happened.
- Burt: I know. I've never dealt with such a thing before. I was going to make an extra copy but I got distracted.
