

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

It's time to set up a meeting!

Learning Outcome

Discuss factual and abstract information about common everyday or job related topics in both work and social contexts appropriate for the interlocutor.

Ask your partner:

- What do you do if you can't reach someone?
- What do you think is the best way to reach someone? Why?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about an unusual or unique event related to work topics.
- I can request or report facts about events or actions related to work issues.
- I can talk about expectations for the future.

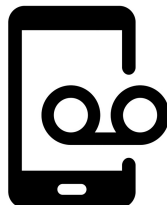

Let's Explore!

Adam receives an important phone call. Who's it from? Do they leave a voicemail message?

* "Voicemail" is an electronic service on your phone that allows callers to leave oral messages.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Adam: Adam Bari here.
- Boris: Hello Adam. This is Boris.
- Adam: Hello, Mr. Brody.
- Boris: Mr. Bari, you will have been working with BFP for a month next week. Yet, you still haven't activated your mailbox.
- Adam: I'll get that sorted out. I've wondered why my phone never blinked. How is Chicago?
- Boris: Good.
- Adam: You'll be tired because you will have been traveling 4 hours by the time you get back to Boston.
- Boris: Yes, Mr. Bari. On to more important matters, have you completed your assignment?
- Adam: No. I have been working on it since yesterday. I started late as I've felt a bit under the weather.
- Boris: You'll need to pick up the pace. You don't want to be falling behind, do you?
- Adam: No, Mr. Brody. I will be finished because I will have worked for 12 hours before I head home. I've tried to set up a meeting with the author since my research turned up nothing.
- Boris: You need to get on that right away. Mr. Duncan is a busy man.
- Adam: I understand. I sent him an e-mail since I haven't spoken to him at all.
- Boris: Have you called his office?
- Adam: I called a few times but no one has picked up.
- Boris: Did you leave a message?
- Adam: No I assumed that if someone was there, they would have picked up.
- Boris: The correct thing to do would be to leave a voicemail message.
- Adam: I sent him an e-mail. It seems redundant to leave a message as well.
- Boris: I'll have been working in this industry 10 years next month. As someone who's been around the block a few times, I suggest you leave him a message.
- Adam: Alright, Mr. Brody.

Let's Practice!

How long has Boris been working?

Instructions: Complete the sentences below by choosing from the options you are given.

- You _____ with BFP for a month next week.
 - will have be working
 - will been working
 - will have been working
- I will be finished because I _____ for twelve hours before I head home.
 - will have be working
 - will have been working
 - will been working
- You'll be tired because _____ for hours by the time you get back to Boston.
 - you will have traveling
 - you will been traveling
 - you will have been traveling
- I'll _____ in this industry ten years next month.
 - has been working
 - have be working
 - have been working
- By the time we finish this project, _____ here for six hours.
 - we will been sitting
 - we have been sitting
 - we will have been sitting

Let's Practice!

Adam is having some problems.

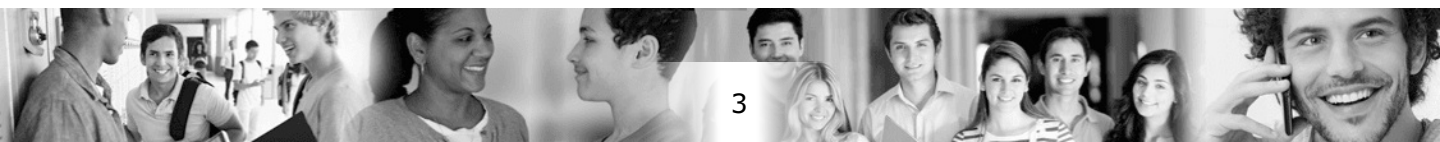

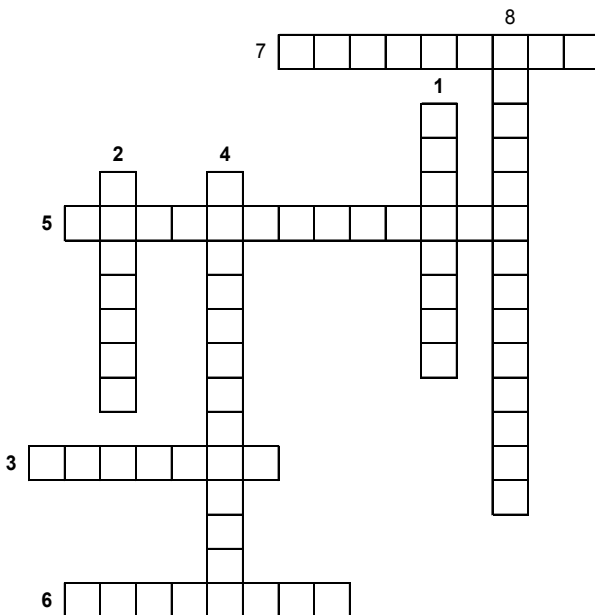

Instructions: Complete the crossword. Read the complete sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

Down

- You need to a _____ your number.
- You haven't set up your voice m_____.
- You're going to have to p_____ u_____ t_____ p_____.
- As someone whose has been a _____ t_____ b_____ a few times, I suggest you leave him a message.

Across

- I wondered why the light on the answering machine never b_____.
- You don't want to be f_____ b_____, do you?
- My research has t_____ u_____ nothing!
- It seems r_____ to leave a message as well.

Extension Activity

Interview a professional.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Think of someone you know who has been working in a certain industry for a long time.
- Write down 10 questions you can ask them. Think of questions where the answer will start with I will have been + verb-ing ...
- Set up an interview with this professional and ask them your questions.
- Write down their answers.
- Use all the answers to write a paragraph about them.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I come up with questions to ask about the progress of actions.

☐ ☐

I talk about events related to work.

☐ ☐

I summarize information gathered from an interview.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to activate (verb): to make something start working e.g. You need to activate your number so you can make and receive calls.
- mailbox (noun): a system for managing telephone messages
e.g. You haven't set up your voice mailbox.
- to blink (verb): to go on and off quickly
e.g. I wondered why the light on the answering machine never blinked.
- to pick up the pace (expression): to go faster
e.g. You're going to have to pick up the pace.
- to fall behind (verb): to become less successful than other people e.g. You don't want to be falling behind, do you?
- turn up nothing (expression): find nothing even when searching for it thoroughly e.g. My research has turned up nothing!
- redundant (adjective): exceeding what is usual or necessary
e.g. It seems redundant to leave a message as well.
- around the block (expression): to have had a lot of experience with something e.g. As someone who has been around the block a few times, I suggest you leave him a message.

Learning Points

The Present Perfect with Past Tenses

The Present Perfect tense is often used with other tenses.

You use the Present Perfect with past tenses to:

1. describe events or states that began and have continued after a time in the past. You use the words ever since, since etc.

For example:

He's been very considerate towards his co-workers since we had a conversation. Ever since I first saw her, I've been wondering where she comes from.

2. describe repeated or long-term thoughts or feelings about events in the past.

For example:

I've often asked myself why she chose to become an astronaut. I've always said I made the wrong choice when I accepted that position.

Examples:

- I've wondered why my phone never blinked.
- I started late as I've felt a bit under the weather.
- I sent him an e-mail since I haven't spoken to him at all.

Learning Points

The Future Perfect Continuous: Stating the Cause of Something in the Future

You can use the Future Perfect Continuous before another action in the future to show cause and effect.

For example:

Jason will be tired when he gets home because he will have been running for over an hour.

In this example, the cause of Jason being tired is that he will have been running for a long time. You use this tense to project yourself into the future and look back on events leading up to that point.

The form of the Future Perfect Continuous tense is:

subject + will have been + verb-ing

Examples:

- You will have been working with BFP for a month next week.
- I will be finished because I will have been working for 12 hours before I head home.
- You'll be tired because you will have been travelling 4 hours by the time you get back to Boston.

